A SPLENDID RUSH.

Then the wearers of the blue had their chance and nobly they responded to the call. Though outnumbered nearly two to one by the bearers of orange colors they made up in volume of enthusiasm for lack of numbers. It was their last chance. Spurred on by the score of 6 to 0, the Tigers rushed to the attack with a flerceness that overturned all obstacles. The mighty weight of their rush line broke down Yale's defense. Yard by yard the Eli's, fighting manually every foot, were forced back and the orrent broke down on the revoted bitade. A SPLENDID RUSH.

The ball was brought almost on the Yale goal line, and then with a mighty heave Baird and Kelly were sent through for touchdowns. Baird easily achieved the major points and the first half ended with the score 12 to 6 in favor of the Tigers.

Fully 8,000 more had standing room, making the number inside the gates over 20,000, not count 2,000 occupants of press seats. On the viaduct and Speedway hill there were at least 25,000, bringing the total of people who saw Bard, of Princeton, send the leather flying to the eastern goal when the game opened 45,000.

lina on Thanksgiving Day.

Society circles in Richmond are much wrought up over the great annual contest in their midst next Thursday, and will show their appreciation by being on hand in large numbers. The local gridiron cranks there are working up large quantities of enthusiasm, and ki shelieved that Richmond will be a great mass of orange and blue rosettes, and streams of blue and white chrysanthemums. Both managers were on the scene last week and made arrangements to have the grounds in perfect order, and sufficient police protection to keep the crowd off the field. Thanksgiving Day will be a general holiday, and be sides the great crowd that will attend the game from that ckty, the Chesapeake and Ohio will run special trains from Morfolk and Charlottesville, while the Cherolinians will bring up a large contin-gent with them. Neutral officials have been agreed upon, and all may expect to see not only a close, but also a fair con-test. From the personnel of the dwo-teams, given below, there will undoubt-edly be a great and exciting game, and it will be safe to offer no odds on either team.

or two brilliant exceptions the home team did not play up to its standard, and the visitors reveloped more strength than was expected. Owing to the fact that the management of the two teams were not sufficiently accommodating to furnish any facilities whatever for the press the game is not given in detail. No score was made in the first half, and in the second the ball was carried almost to Norfolk's goal line, though Portsmouth had it and was passed to Hughes. The visitors claim that Hughes fumbled it, causing it to bounce over the line, causing a touch back. Norfolk claims that the ball was pushed over, making a safety and scoring two decided that it was back, which decision makes the game a tie, with a score of 0 to 0. In the last play that was made Saun-

In the last play that was made Saunders Taylor, whose work had been the feature of the game, was thrown in a tackle and rendered unconscious. His chin was badly cut and he had to be carried home, where a physician was summoned. His injuries are not considered serious, though painful. Langhorne, Portsmouth's half back, was hurt painfully, but his collar bone was not broken as at first thought.

One incident which created considerable excitement occurred near the middle of the second half, when a crowd broke through wires at Norfolk's goal. Several officers attempted to get the men to move back and one boy, John Penett, from the other side, was put out. According to a number of Portsmouth people he was kicked by an officer, against whom charges will probably be lodged in the Poltersburg.

The Department Will Endeavor to Have Them Corrected.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The Navy Department has decided that certain imperfections exist in the battleship Texas and has determined to make an effort to remedy them.

These conclusions were reached at a consultation of bureau chiefs in Secretary Herbert's office this morning, to which Capt. Henry Glass, commander of the unlucky ship, had been summoned from New York.

Up to this time the department has declined to concede that anything was the matter with the ship, and under these circumstances there has been a clash of opinion between Admiral Bunce and Capt. Glass, the former desiring to have the Texas go out and drill with his squadron, while Capt. Glass, who is compelled to risk his life and crew on the vessel, has urged that she be permitted. mitted to stay in a navy-yard long enough to correct various defects which his intimate connection with the ves-sel convinces him imperatively need correction.

There Was An Interesting Docket in the Police Court Yesterday.

Rather an unusual case came up before Justice Tomlin in the Police Court yesterday, when William Wilson was arraigned on the charge of abducting Willie Craddock, a small boy of Berkley. It was further charged that the prisoner had made the lad drunk and given him a pistol and ammunition. To these facts young Craddock testified. The prisoner, when placed on the stand, said that the boy had applied for a position on his barge. He had communicated with his parents, who had replied that the youngster was incorrigible and they desired witness to take charge of him. He denied giving the boy liquor and said that he purchased the revolver himself.

Nevertheless, the Justice fined Wilson $29 and costs. This fine was later reduced to $2.50 and then to $1, as the Court learned of mitigating circum-

A BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Was the Late Congress of the Episcopal Church Held Here.

WILL LEAVE ITS MARK ON CHURCH LIFE

Eishop Randolph is Elated at the Success of the Congress and Says it Will Do Much for Progress in Church Work-Rev. Dr. Rainsford An Ecclesiastical Reformer.

The seventeenth annual congress of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America, which held its session in this city last week, was one of the most con-spicuous events in the history of the Church

Church.

The congress was held in Norfolk at the especial request of Bishop Randolph, of this dlocese, and the delegates all expressed themselves as delighted at the selection. They departed with the pleasantest recollections of the hospitality of the people of this city, and as Dr. Timany happily expressed it, they will bring their trunks and chattels with them next time.

Some few of the distinguished gen-themen remained over for a day, and will visit Old Point and other places of in-terest hereabouts beforg their return.

COSMOPOLITAN AUDIENCE.

A notable fact in connection with the attendance upon the sessions was the undenominational character of the audiences which attended it. They were composed of members of every religious sect represented in this city, and the deep and hearty interest manifested was remarkable.

No American city has ever had the pleasure and honor of entertaining a body of more distinguished ecclesiastics than those who attended the Norfolk session of the congress.

BISHOP RANDOLPH ELATED. COSMOPOLITAN AUDIENCE.

BISHOP RANDOLPH ELATED. Bishop Randolph is beaming over the suspicious work of the body over which the had the honor to preside. The houghts evolved and the methods prolosed in the papers, and addresses of the able authorities who participated, the Bishop says, will have a moulding freet upon the Church's life and work in the line of progress.

One of the ablest and most progressive divines in attendance upon the congress was Rev. Dr. Rainsford, of New York, who here, as everywhere else, won all hearts. He hold that a hungry man makes neither a good Christian nor a good citizen, and his belief is that the Church should do her best to have the man receive a little preparation for Heaven in this world.

A BROAD STAND.

One of the happiest of the many pleasant and cordial features of the important assemblages was the liberalism of Rev. Dr. Elliott, of Washington, D. C., who, in referring to the Protestant Episcopal Church government, said: "If it be of divine right, it does not follow that there is no salvation without it. He is blind who does not see other churches existing without it; he is Lard-hearted who would deny them salvation."

Taken as a whole, the congress was a brilliant success, and will leave a deep impress upon the church's work. A BROAD STAND.

The negro was taken to the woods and ung to the limb of a tree in order make him confess. At first he prosted entire innocence of any knowledge ration had been repeated two or three filmes, said that his brother was the guilty party. The next day the negroes of the county for several miles around armed themselves with scythe blades, gues, pistols, and knives, and threatened to kill all the whites in the neighborhood. A colored preacher from Charlettesville came down and persuaded them to desist, but it is said that excitement still runs high, and several white families have moved away. The whites remaining are prepared to resist any attack from the negroes.

The action of the band of whites in terrorizing the negro is deprecated by most of the whites of that section.
